First published in 1913, El Palacio is the oldest museum magazine in the United States. A stunning tribute to scholarly achievements and research in the diverse arts, history and culture of the Southwest, El Palacio is a glossy, full-color, fine-art magazine published quarterly in Santa Fe.

El Palacio features original and updated research; book excerpts; interviews with celebrated historians, authors, scholars and ethnologists; and discussions on major exhibitions and public programs at the Museum of International Folk Art, Museum of Indian Arts and Culture, New Mexico Museum of Art, New Mexico History Museum, National Hispanic Cultural Center, Office of Archaeological Studies, and New Mexico Historic Sites.

Subscriptions to El Palacio are $24.99 for four issues (one year) and $44.99 for eight issues (two years). For international subscribers, an additional fee of $20 for 4 issues, or one year, applies.

“Many of my students, friends, and collectors outside New Mexico called when they saw the ad, along with two collectors who wished to purchase the painting at Blue Rain Gallery in Santa Fe. I will certainly do more advertising in El Palacio.”

— Roseta Santiago, Painter

“When I first started advertising with El Palacio five years ago, it was to honor my new Museum Hill location. Lo and behold in those five years, I’ve gone from a half-page to a full page in every single issue. El Palacio is a critical part of my marketing mix and part of the reason the café has been such a success.”

— Weldon Fulton, Proprietor, Museum Hill Café
